MAKE YOUR LIBERTY BONDS BUY W. S. S.

Many thousands of Liberty Bond buyers in the Seventh District turned "coupon clippers" on November 15—interest day for the second 4 per cent and converted 4¼ Liberty Bonds. The war has made "bond capitalists" of great numbers of workers and people who formerly regarded 'investment" as a thing beyond their reach. By subscribing to the Liberty Loans they have taken a permanent place in the finances of the Government, and, if they are wise, they will derive increasing benefit thereby.

The importance of saving, and not wasting, the interest money received on coupons is clearly explained by F. R. Fenton, Federal Reserve Director for Michigan of sales of Government securities. He said:

"All 'bond values' and 'yield tables' are figured on the supposition that the coupon clipper shall add the amount of the interest to the principal each coupon day. Any man who fails to do this loses the magic of 'compound interest' and fails to get the most out of his investment. Therefore every Liberty Bond coupon ought to be immediately invested and not 'blown in' for cigars or other foolishness.

"The Government makes it easy to invest Liberty Bond coupons. U. S Thrift Stamps at 25c cents apiece may be bought at any postoffice or bank Sixteen of there stamps, accompanied by an 'exchange fee' of 22 cents, will amount to $4.22, for which the Government will give a War Savings Stamp redeemable for $5 in 1923.

"To make the matter clear: If you have a $100 Liberty Bond of the converted second loan, you will have a coupon worth $2.13. Add 12 cents, take the $2.25 to the postoffice and buy nine Thrift Stamps. Paste these on your Thrift Card with the seven you already have, adding 22 cents for the exchange, and you will receive a $5 War Savings Stamp. Thus, you make 78 cents clear by the transaction.

"In other words: Clip your coupons and lend the interest money to the United States Government, by investing in Thrift Stamps."

IS THIS YOUR BOY?

Who are these youthful offenders so numerous as to be a nuisance who seem to know not even first principles of good citizenship? How many slackers there are among the fathers and mothers of today when it comes to the training of boys in their early youth.

Just what possible excuse can you make for those lads old enough to judge 'twixt right and wrong, yet deliberately are going about intent upon the destruction of anything not their own?

It behooves every parent to keep more in touch with the actions and behavior and the associates who in many cases are the prompters.

A man who would enter your home intent upon destruction of anything which you value would soon see his finish. What more right has your child to promiscuously harm that which possibly means years of hard labor to acquire?

Unoccupied property becomes a common target for lads who well know the high cost of all commodities.

Street lamps and signs, too, get any amount of nonsensical treatment. Breaking of globes is great sport; littering streets with whatever comes handy to drop any old place certainly does not help to improve the attractiveness of a community.

Such a surplus of impudence as one encounters who may endeavor in all kindliness to check such nonessential jollification is amazing. Lads who come from homes of culture and refinement, standing as heads of the gangs.

The first principle of any patriotism is so utterly lacking in these offenders that one cannot resist to attempt to rouse up some sentiment of honor and respect for rights of others. Talk with your boy and instill more of the soldier spirit of protection, helpfulness and respect, and it will help a little bit, and every bit helps a lot.

Too many criminals are started on their career by the lack of a stern hand to guide them in just such early-day pranks.

Let us have more manly qualities in our boys.—Anonymously contributed by one of our neighbors, so timely and fitting that it deserves space.

COAL MARKET SITUATION

The Black Diamond says: Last week the war came to an end as quickly as it had begun. America finds itself at present, therefore, with an unknown demand at home, but with a productive capacity equal to coping with a world shortage of coal and other things.

Under the circumstances, a certain collapse of the American coal market seems inevitable. The productive capacity of the regular shipping mines had been increased from an actual output of 575,000,000 tons. Evidently there must be some readjustment of the production program or a complete collapse in prices in response to the law of supply and demand.

The first Daily News lecture of the season given at the Ryder School Friday night drew a large assembly of adults. The title of the lecture was "The Vacant Thrones."

The Misses Kelly and Lyons gave a most successful card and bunco party last Wednesday at St. Sabina's Hall.

One of the prettiest parades was on Monday morning, when the children of St. Sabina's School assembled. Each child carried a flag. Many a nickel for the Red Cross was thrown into the flag that the larger girls carried.

GOVERNMENT TO RESTORE SOLDIERS

The United States Government is resolved to do its best to restore every wounded American soldier and sailor to health, strength and self-supporting activity.

Every Liberty Bond holder who holds his bond is keeping up a part of this great work of restoring to health, strength and usefulness the men who have suffered for their country.

Until his discharge from the hospital all the medical and surgical treatment necessary to restore him to health is under the jurisdiction of the military or naval authorities, according to the branch of the service he is in. The vocational training, the reeducation and rehabilitation necessary to restore him to self-supporting activity is under the jurisdiction of the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

If he needs an artificial limb or mechanical appliance the Government will supply it free, will keep it in repair, and renew it when necessary. If after his discharge he again needs medical treatment on account of his disability, the Government will supply it free. While he is in the hospital and while in training afterwards, the soldier or sailor will receive compensation as if in service, and his family or dependents will receive their allotment.

A wounded soldier or sailor, although his disability does not prevent him from returning to employment without training, can take a course of vocational training free of cost and the compensation provided by the war risk insurance act will be paid to him and the training will be free, but no allotment will be paid to his family.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS
in "He Comes Up Smiling"

How would you like to be valet to a pet canary? Our old pal Doug was—and then the bird escaped. It isn't as though you could blame the canary—naturally a bird flies away if the door's open—but the darnedest thing is that poor Douglas Fairbanks has to catch it or be fired. Well that bird had one long drink before he started—maybe there was whisky in it—and he's about as hard to grab as thistledown in a gale. Come and see this funny Artcraft picture.

"The Border Wireless"

Pitting William S. Hart with his western rig into a strictly modern tale is one which required some little ingenuity but we rather think that you will agree with us that the job is a successful one just the same. The star enacts the role of a man embittered by the mistreatment of his parents by a railroad concern, to escape the memory of which he takes to the road as a bandit. How the patriotism gets the better of his criminal pursuits and how he rescues a beautiful maiden in distress and thwarts the Hun plotters who are betraying the movements of our troops makes a most interesting and thrilling story.

"The Man from Funeral Range"

It's one thing to BE innocent, but it's quite another to PROVE it, particularly when a rascally lawyer finds it profitable to get your scalp. This thrilling picture, starring Wallace Reid, revolves around that dramatic question of "Should a lawyer get a man the death sentence when he secretly believes him innocent?" The lawyer says he does what he's paid for, same as other men. What do you say? Wallace Reid is sentenced to death, makes a sensational escape from a train en route to prison, lives in "Funeral Range" awhile, grows a beard and eventually gets back to civilization and makes it hot for Mr. Lawyer.

White Buzzards.

A page from Captain Dampier's "First Voyage to the Bay of Campeachy" published in 1729, tells of white buzzards. A native of any of the southern states will vouch for the fact that a white buzzard in those parts would be regarded as something of an absurdity, but says the veracious old sea captain: "Some of the carrion crows are all over white, but their feathers look as if they were sullied. . . . 'Tis seldom that we see a great number of black ones but that we see one white one among them."

Names of South American Countries.

Mexico is a Spanish rendering, or combination, of Aztec words meaning the place of the war god. Brazil seems to have derived its name from the legendary Island of Brazil (later identified with one of the Azores), because it was found to produce a red wood resembling brazil wood. Chile and Peru are of aboriginal origin. Argentina is an invented name based on the Latin word for silver, as Rio de la Plata, the name of its chief river, means silver river in Spanish.

Doing One's Best Work.

To do one's best work and be one's best self involves the quiet but final acceptance of such tools as have been put into one's hands and such materials as lie about one. To be happy and useful and to contribute to the joy of life one must take up the work at hand and do it as best he may, without envy, jealousy, or strife. —The Outlook.

Sheep Best Farm Fertilizers.

Sheep produce the most valuable of all farm fertilizers. Their sharp hoofs work this well into the soil. This quality has earned for sheep the title of "Golden Hoof." In England land which during Queen Elizabeth's reign produced only six bushels of wheat per acre has been made to yield 30 bushels at present, simply by pasturing the land to sheep.

Health and Wealth.

The dollar mark is a sign of wealth, but not health. Health without wealth is better than wealth without health. It is possible for a man to have both.

That's How it's Done.

A black mammy's recipes for her cakes: "Why, sure, honey, I'll tell you jess how to do it. You takes as much meal as you wants, mix in some flour an' three or four aigs, put in milk 'nough to make it thick as it oughter be; don't forgit a pinch or two o' salt and a good-sized lump o' butter; drop in a little sugar, too; den fill de little pans an' put 'em in de oven . . . till dey's done, honey."

Have a Heart, Judge.

In the long run an automobilist doesn't gain time by making too much of it in the city limits. The chances are he'll have to do some.

Musical Expression in Children.

A writer says: "The greater part of children's time is spent in elaborate impersonation and make-believe, and the entire basis of their education is acquired through this directly assimilative faculty." This applies most forcibly to music and gives to those who have the care of children almost unlimited opportunity for developing musical expression.

Derivation of "Major."

Major, like mayor, is from the Latin word major, greater, the comparative of magnus, great. The French for the same adjective is majeur, the Italian maggiore; mayor, by the way, is the Spanish form. A major is "greater" than a captain, but less than a lieutenant colonel. He is the lowest field officer.

Optimistic Thought.

A city does not prosper that shakes with sedition and is rent by evil counsels.

Inhumanity and Waste.

The annual loss of life among food animals in transit to Chicago alone is reported to be as follows. Cattle, 1,796; calves, 2,198; swine, 9,330; sheep, 3,120. That the greater part of this loss is due, more than to anything else, to the cruel and inconsiderate treatment of these poor creatures in loading and unloading and on the journey no one will question who knows anything about the evils connected with the transportation of animals.

Record for Divers.

In salvaging the United States submarine F-4, which was sunk off Honolulu in March, 1915, divers went down to a depth of about 300 feet and adjusted chains and cables and directed operations of men at the surface. This is said to have broken all diving records.

Maelstrom of Norway.

The maelstrom of Norway is a dangerous whirlpool off the coast of Norway, caused by a rushing of the currents of the ocean in a channel between two of the Lofoden islands, and intensified at times by contrary winds, to the destruction (according to the stories) often of small craft caught in the eddies of it, and sometimes of whales attempting to pass through it.

Hadn't Quite Understood.

Much amusement was created in a Melbourne (Australia) criminal court recently when a slightly deaf juror was being sworn. The judge repeated to him the words, "I swear by Almighty God so to do." Whereon the juryman declared, "I swear by Almighty God I'm sorry for you!"

The King Got His.

Solomon, a London musician, had as pupil King George II. One day, when the king had not distinguished himself by great practice or skill in playing, the teacher gave him the following classification of fiddlers. "Fiddlers, your majesty, may be divided into three classes: To the first belong those who cannot play at all; to the second those who play badly; and to the third those who play well. You, sire, have already reached the second class."

Optimistic Thought.

Self-adoration is the stock in trade of a fool.

Use for Kansas Sunflower.

Americans, especially those who live in the Sunflower state of Kansas, will be interested in knowing that the cultivation of the sunflower is being urged in England because its seeds are rich in oil and valuable as chicken feed.—The People's Home Journal.

British Urged to Keep Goats.

"Goat getting" is coming right along as a national sport in England, says a London dispatch. Everyone who knows anything about Nannie is writing to the papers urging everyone to get one goat at least and more if possible and keep them. The right kind of goat yields about two quarts of milk daily and the gentlemen of the species—the boys with the Farmer Brown whiskers—are said to produce first-class mutton.

Real Riches.

Do you know what real riches are? Some people never know, but others do. Real riches consist not in having, but in giving. Some of the people who are envied as wealthy, are in reality poor starved souls to whom the joy of sacrifice is an unknown luxury. Not until you master the art of giving up for others are you really rich.—Exchange.

Nothing Good Made in a Hurry.

No great thing is created suddenly, any more than a bunch of grapes or a fig. If you tell me that you desire a fig, I answer you that there must be time. Let it first blossom, then bear fruit, then ripen.—Exchange.

Valuable for Autoists.

An Englishman has invented a tool to probe cuts and small holes in automobile tires and remove articles which might cause punctures.

Daily Thought.

A man's first care should be to avoid the reproaches of his own heart.—Addison.

Steam Engine Helped.

It is an historic fact that the development of the steam engine enabled England to stand the cost of the wars with Napoleon and speedily enjoy a more widespread prosperity than the country had ever before known.

Naturalization Papers.

Naturalization papers are issued by any federal court or state court of record. A fee of $1 is charged at the time of the declaration of intentions and of $4 when the petition for complete naturalization is filed.

Stopped Too Soon.

The fat, good-natured, cross-eyed barber was in the middle of my haircut when our conversation drifted into goatees. "I'd rather take a whipping," he said, "than shave a man with a goatee. Just when you begin to get down where the shavin's good, you have to stop."—Chicago Tribune.

Weak Womanhood.

Some married women are so weak that they allow their husbands to keep part of their salaries.—Idaho Statesman.

On Reading the Readers.

Voltaire said, in speaking of social revolution: "There is no danger in the nine-volume philosophical encyclopedia, but watch out for the pamphlet that fits into the side coat pocket and sells for a few sous."—Cottrell's Magazine.

NATIONAL THEATRE

DAILY MATINEES

"Hearts of the World," the production that is conceded to be D. W. Griffith's masterpiece, surpassing both his "Intolerance" and "The Birth of a Nation," will be seen at the National Theatre for 2 weeks starting next Sunday. Daily matinees will be given.

The fact that Mr. Griffith spent eighteen months on the battlefields of France would seem to indicate that "Hearts of the World" is primarily a war play. To the contrary, and on the authority of Mr. Griffith himself, it is not about the war, but about the people to whom the war came—and for this reason it makes the war real. Many of the recent war films have been devoted so exclusively to photographs of fighting that, for all they have revealed, the war might be limited to the scenes recorded by the camera. Others have so insulted intelligence and pure patriotism with theatrical rubbish, based on melodrama, clumsy studio fakes and other devices that many persons are inclined to believe the producers guilty of burlesqueing the war, were such a thing thinkable. Mr. Griffith has proved by his "Birth of a Nation" and other master works that he is a man who does big things in a big way; one who stops at nothing, however seemingly insurmountable, in his honest efforts to faithfully reproduce a given condition.

The same symphony orchestra and complete effects which enhanced the production during the former engagement in this city will be an important part of the entertainment.

This wonderful spectacle has been shown for nine months at the 44th St. Theatre, New York; seven months at the Olympic and Colonial Theatres in Chicago, and every other principal city in the country has endorsed "Hearts of the World" as the greatest theatrical attraction of all time. Those who witnessed this historic play on the earlier engagement need no description of the magnitude of the production. Everyone should see the Griffith masterpiece, for it teaches history in addition to its entertaining qualities.

ENGLEWOOD THEATRE

Ladies' Bargain Weekday Matinees

All Seats 15c

An entire week of high class burlesque is scheduled at the Englewood theatre beginning on Sunday, Nov. 17, and twice daily in the presentation of the spicy innovation, "The High Fliers." The production is the work of Charles M. Baker, who has previously given to the burlesque stage many enjoyable offerings. While "The High Fliers" is full of "pep" and action every minute, it is thoroughly groomed for domestic consumption, wholesome, palatable, and fit for drawing-room discussion in every line. The musical foundation is all there and all of the contagious variety song-hits of which there are twenty numbers.

Besides having the merit of a more than ordinary burlesque novelty, "The High Fliers" may be regarded as a theatrical rarity. Briefly, it opens with a Charity Bazaar which was to be honored with a visit by a Duke and Duchess. But at the last moment they found it would be impossible to attend and wired the committee of the Bazaar. But the messenger boy lost the telegram on the street and it fell into the hand of Cohn and Dum, who had just been released from jail. They decide to be the Duke and Duchess. It is then and there the show starts off with a rollicking, side-splitting two hours and a half of enduring joy. Then in addition to that, comes the aviation scene which is abreast of current events, novel and unique and never failing to surprise the audience at every performance like a jolt from Vesuvius. The scenic effects are magnificent, the costumes elaborate and beautiful. The extensive cast contains the names of such well-known and talented artists as Bert Bertrand, Charles Cole, Barbara Douglas, Gertrude Ralston, Jack Sheehan, Joseph Cunningham, Grace Howard and Stella Blair and others, besides the Youngest Beauty Chorus of thirty model thirty-sixes.

Courage and Cowardice.

The thin line between courage and cowardice is none too distinctly drawn, for it rides astride fear. And it must seem inane to be told how one can be either a coward or a courageous man, depending altogether upon which side of the line one takes the first step, but the formula has held good in actual practice in our very best war. —From "Am I a Coward?" by Eugene L. Harrison, in Physical Culture.

The Cinque Ports.

"The cinque ports" of England are he "five ports," Dover, Sandwich, Hythe, Romney and Hastings. In Saxon and succeeding times they were bound to furnish ships for the purpose of repelling invasion, and in return were granted special privileges. Rye and Winchelsea were afterward added to them. To be appointed warden of the cinque ports is still considered a very high honor.

No Microbes in High Altitudes.

According to eminent scientists, not a single microbe exists in mountain air above the height of 2,000 feet.

Origin of "Yankee."

It is said the term "Yankee" originated with the Indians when they were in alliance with the French colonists against the English. They were unable to pronounce the French words "Les Anglais" and pronounced the words "Yangee" which gradually took the form of "Yankee." When the English abandoned the country the Indians made no distinction between the former colonists and the English themselves, and the term clung to the Americans.

Deep Sea Creatures.

An interesting little creature of the deep is the lencelet. It ranks about halfway between a fish and an invertebrate. Among its many peculiarities is the absence of a distinct head. The mouth is in the middle of the body, and is surrounded by tentacles. At great depths shrimps have been found that have luminous bodies. When put into the aquarium, they lose their light giving properties. Scientists believe the Creator made these creatures luminous to give them light in the dark depths of the sea.

Highland Proclamation.

The following is a proclamation said to have been once issued at Kenmore: "A ane time, ho yes! an' a twa time, ho yes! and a tree time, ho yes! To a' them wha ha' gotten the spoks (English), no persons, at no time after nor prefore, will pu' peats nor howk heather on my Lord Preatalappin's moss, or my lordship to be surely will prought them perfore her to be peheatet, and syne hangt; and gin she'll come back till pe waur done till her nor a' tat."

You Are an Heir.

We like to preach the doctrine of contentment. Now, there is no man so content as the man who is heir to a great estate, and you are heir to the greatest estate that ever was, namely, the whole earth. Once the earth was owned in common by all the people. Well, are you not an heir of the original owners? It is nothing at all to own just a little corner of the world and no more. All of it is yours if you have eyes to see, ears to hear and the heart to feel.—Los Angeles Times.

Pleasure in Making Others Happy.

If those of us who are spending ourselves in the pursuit of empty pleasures stop for a moment and, resolving to look up our ill or less fortunate friends, would go to see them once in a while, or would send some brief message of cheer, we would experience a joy delightfully new and satisfying to ourselves. We would find it far more worth while to bring a smile to lips that have been set with pain or sorrow than to seek pleasures that may amuse us idly for a moment and then, because we are satiated with "good times," interest us no longer.—Exchange.

Should Think He Was.

The temperance advocate who declared that "drunkenness is folly," and found himself reported in the papers as having said "drunkenness is jolly," must have been annoyed.

For the Baby.

The lung motor is an air pump which is good to start the breathing process in newly born babies.

Know What You Want.

"The hardest customers I have," a salesman in a city store declared recently, "are the people who are waiting for someone to tell them what they want." This class of people is larger than we might expect, and not only do they make trouble for others but they are restless and discontented. Do not wait for someone to tell you what you want. Find out for yourself. The first step toward getting what you want is to know what it is.

X-Ray Reflectors.

Mica has been found an excellent material for concentrating mirrors for X-rays. Glass will not do, because, smooth as it is, it is too rough for the extremely minute X-rays, which are much smaller than light waves. Glass diffuses the X-rays, much as a rough surface diffuses light waves, but it was found that the surface of mineral crystals were of the requisite smoothness for reflecting X-rays, and of them mica is the most adaptable, being readily split into sheets.

Mischievous Magpie.

Birds of the magpie kind are like monkeys, full of mischief, play, and mimicry. There is a story of a tame magpie that was seen busily employed in a garden gathering pebbles, and with so much solemnity and a studied air dropping them in a hole made to receive a post. After dropping each stone it cried "Currack!" triumphantly, and set off for another. On examining the spot a toad was found in the hole, which the magpie was stoning for his amusement.

Eider Ducks.

Eider ducks are numerous everywhere in Norway. Being the producers of the valuable eiderdown, a staple article of trade in Norway, they are rigorously protected by law, and are in consequence so tame as in many places to approximate a domestic fowl. The birds are regarded with far from friendly eyes by the fishermen, by reason of the damage they work among the spawning beds of the fish. Lobsters in particular suffer severely from their devastations.

To Retain Friends.

To retain friends of the right sort means that one must prove a friend of similar caliber. But on the other hand, if a girl or woman is influenced only by display (which at best is an empty, shallow affair) she cannot hope to hold the sincere regard of persons who in truth are worth while. The really level headed girl will cling fast to the honest friends of other less palmy days—perhaps to the friends who make no display but who are sterling through and through.—Exchange.

Weights Affected by Gravity.

Anything weighed in the polar regions weighs more than if weighed on the equator, if weighed by a spring balance, since the strength of the spring is not affected by gravity; but if weighed by a scale beam balance and weights the weight is the same as in any part of the world, since the weights are affected by gravity to the same degree as the article which is weighed. For this reason goods weighed in custom houses from foreign parts are always weighed by beam scales.
